Black Orchid Weekend

The Assembly

December 7, 2013

2:00 PM – 4:30 PM

2013 Assembly Presenters

Rebecca Stout Bradbury

Daughter of Rex and Pola Stout, Rebecca will share memories of growing up in High Meadow. She will offer insight into the personal side of her beloved father. Rebecca will recount tales of his relationships with both family and the famous, and describe some of his many talents beyond fiction writing. She will also give examples of his lasting impact today.

Joseph Goodrich

Edgar Award-winning author of the play Panic, Joseph is also the editor of Blood Relations: The Selected Letters of Ellery Queen, 1947–1950, which was nominated for the 2012 Anthony and Agatha Awards. His fiction has appeared in two MWA anthologies, and he's a regular contributor to Mystery Scene Magazine. His adaptation of Rex Stout's The Red Box debuts in June 2014 at Park Square Theatre in Saint Paul, MN.

Ira Brad Matetsky

Since 2007, Ira's been serving as the Pack's third Werowance, and has been a Member since 1993. He is a litigation attorney & a member of the law firm, Ganfer & Shore, LLP in Manhattan. A version of his most recent Assembly presentation, "Nero Wolfe, Rex Stout, the Language, and the Law", was published in the 2012 special Gazette issue of The Green Bag Almanac and Reader and can be found at www.nerowolfe.org.
